Objective:

NEP-2020 is a key policy document that has been brought out by Government of India which is the face, faith and future of education in general and higher education including professional education in particular. Needless to state that professional education is a significant and vital component of the entire spectrum of higher education. The NEP-2020 by virtue of innovation in corporations there in is bound to create a huge paradigm shift in the entire domain of professional education as well.

The concept of multiple incorporation emphasis on innovation skills of teaching and learning, the concept of lateral entry and collateral exit in terms of graded certification, structuring of the syllabi on the competency based as a part of problem solving basis and assignment exclusively based on credit award systems with the formalization of all important concept academic banking of credit and retention and transformation of it for the learners. As such diligent inclusion of this cardinal policy frame work included in NEP-2020 could turn out to be a huge game changer

Professional education including health professional education is under the regulatory control of statutory regulatory authorities for specified object set out. The regulatory prescriptions by the apical regulatory bodies are binding in nature and mandatory in character as such in the teeth of the present regulatory frame governing health professional education in the domain of modern medicine, dental sciences, nursing sciences etc.

The principal objective in the back drop of plethora of variables is to workout modalities of alignment of NEP-2020 with reference to its cardinal principles facilitating meaningful, cogent, credible and quality centric health professional education which could in its turn generate effective healthcare trained manpower catering to the cause of healthcare delivery system of the entire globe, with the essence of humanism, professionalism and altruism embedded there in.

Expected outcome:

It is loud and clear that the present operational system in the domain of health professional education are not only segmented but also specifically regimented as well. The regulatory frames for each of the health profession being separate for e.g. Medical education being regulated by National Medical Commission, Dental education being regulated by Dental Council of India, Nursing education being regulated by Indian Nursing Council, Pharmaceutical education being regulated by Pharmacy Council of India and Indian system of medicine by Central Council for Indian Medicine and paramedical sciences by paramedical council/ commission having their own respective jurisdiction and authority for maintenance of respective national registers of the trained professionals of the concerned streams. As NEP 2020 aims at multidisciplinary integration including inter sectioning of the various streams of learning facilitating integrated outcome based problem solving professional education resulting in the invocation of critical thinking and critical reasoning. A way forward on invocation of an operational model turns out to be the key outcome of the seminar.
